A dip into the past with a sweet sound in the background: cowbells.

S. Colombano, Cerdecco, Zandilla: 3 malghe crossed by a path that enhances their activities related to mountaineering and pastoral activities. The slope is heavily wooded and the few clearings were exploited for activities related to animal husbandry, and it is no coincidence that the meaning of the name refers precisely to the act of milking or to mountain shelter for animals. The huts also served excellently as a resting place for occasional wayfarers, who could find momentary refreshment and perhaps even a little company there.

TOP Bormio 360 Trekking Stage 4 The Alpine Hut ...

This scenic stage starts at Malga San Colombano (also reachable from Forte di Oga), crosses the San Colombano Valley where you can stop at several points to admire the vast panorama over the Bormio basin, and continues to Malga di Cerdecc and Alpe Zandilla. An unmissable different viewpoint of the upper Valtellina!
